ScheduleSource Partners with LSSI
for Library Scheduling   May 15, 2002

ScheduleSource, Inc. is pleased to announce that Library Systems & Services (LSSI) has selected ScheduleSource as the scheduling engine for the Virtual Library Reference Desk. Here is what LSSI says: "At LSSI, we know that running a great virtual reference service is hard enough without adding staff scheduling headaches into the mix. So, we have teamed with ScheduleSource - a leading provider of online scheduling services for universities, call centers, libraries and hospitals - to help automate scheduling for virtual reference services."

ScheduleSource Partners with TimeCentre
for Time and Attendance   April 30, 2002

ScheduleSource, Inc. is pleased to announce a significant milestone that will provide our customers unparalleled service in workforce management.

We have formed a partnership with TimeCentre, Inc. of Boulder, CO, (www.timecentre.com) makers of advanced employee time and attendance systems. With this partnership now in place, customers are able to seamlessly integrate ScheduleSource's advanced labor scheduling with TimeCentre's full-featured time and attendance solution, with the end result being full automation from the labor planning stages, to scheduling, to collecting actual employee clock-in / clock-out times, and finally to payroll. A complete end-to-end solution for your workforce management needs!

Optimal Solutions Creates Internet's First
Automated Employee Scheduling System   October 27, 1999

Optimal Solutions, Inc., an innovator in employee scheduling software, today introduced ScheduleSource, a breakthrough in on-line, automated employee scheduling.

ScheduleSource is the first browser-based application enabling organizations to create, edit and view weekly employee schedules on the Internet.

ScheduleSource builds schedules with the click of a button, without installing a single component of software. The ability to reach ScheduleSource from any computer with Internet service means both managers and employees can access schedules at any time. Managers may even allow employees to trade shifts on-line!

"We are very excited to be the Internet's first employee scheduling application provider," says Scott Hammers, President of Optimal Solutions. "Web-based applications provide many new benefits for the customer, including global access, easy set-up and continuous updates to features and functionality."

ScheduleSource has an easy to use web interface. Managers maintain employee records of availability, skills and days off. When a new schedule is created, ScheduleSource automatically fills shifts with employees based on availability & skills.
